Handbook Introduction

The Society of California Archivists Handbook is intended to be a practical tool outlining the major duties of the officers, Board of Directors, and committees. It provides an up-to-date reference on the Corporation's structure, aims, policies, and procedures.

The Handbook is based on the Bylaws of the Corporation, Alice Sturgis's The Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure, and ongoing decisions by the Board. Should there be a conflict among these, the Bylaws take precedence, since the Handbook is not binding.

To maximize the Handbook's usefulness, all Board decisions affecting material in it should be immediately noted by the Secretary. These revisions should be made and updated in the master online copy of the Handbook so that all board members, committee chairs, and the general membership may have access to the most current version via the SCA website.

1-2 Bylaws

Adapted from Bylaws revised and approved by the membership, May 1992, presented to the membership for approval February 1993, and approved by written ballot, March 1993; amended by membership April 1996; amended by membership April 1997; amended by membership April 2006; amended by membership April 2013; amended by membership vote, May 2015 of the corporation. The institution may designate two individuals to participate in the affairs of the corporation and such individuals shall have the same rights, privileges, and preferences and be subject to the same restrictions and conditions as individual members except that in meetings of the members or on ballots only one vote may be cast on behalf of the institutional member.

4. Annual dues for each class of membership shall be determined by the Board of Directors from time to time subject to ratification by a majority of the members voting.

5. Notice of proposed changes in dues shall be circulated to the membership at least thirty (30) days prior to a vote.

The Vice President shall be the President elect. The President and Vice President shall each serve a single term of one year in each office, beginning thirty (30) days after the annual business meeting, the Vice President succeeding as President at the end of one year. A Vice President shall be elected every year.

The Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected for staggered terms of two years, (Secretary in odd numbered years, Treasurer in even-numbered years) beginning thirty (30) days after the annual business meeting. Each shall serve until his or her successor is elected, and said officers shall be eligible to succeed themselves.

In the event of a vacancy in the position of Vice President or Secretary or Treasurer, the President shall appoint the candidate for that position who received the next highest votes in the last election. That person is to serve as a replacement until the next election. The nominees receiving the highest number of legal votes cast shall be elected to the Board of Directors.

In the event of a vacancy for the position of director, the President, shall appoint the candidate for the position who received the next highest vote in the last election. That person shall serve the remainder of the unexpired term. If that candidate is unable to serve, the President, with the approval of the Board of Directors, shall appoint another member to serve the unexpired term.

A non-officer director shall be ineligible to serve more than two successive terms, except that a director appointed to fill an unexpired term is eligible thereafter to be elected by the membership to not more than two additional terms.

At the first election following the incorporation of the organization (in 1993), the terms for officers and directors shall be as follows: President for one year; Vice President for one year, to become President the following year; Secretary for two years; two directors for two years. SCA Archives: Finding Aid

The SCA Archives are held by Special Collections at the University of California, Santa Barbara. An EAD version of the finding aid is made available on the Online Archive of California (OAC) at <http://www.oac.cdlib.org/findaid/ark:/13030/kt158033bd/> . This version of the finding aid was accessed in May 2011.

History

SCA approved a resolution on December 3, 1976 establishing the SCA Archives and designating UCLA Special Collections as the repository. The SCA Archives collection was established by Anne Caiger, head of Special Collections at the University Research Library of UCLA with the first transfer of records in 1976 and 1977. Anne was an early member of the society and served as president from 1979-1980. James Mink, the first president of SCA, was also from UCLA. Due to the strong UCLA/SCA connection in the formative years of the society, it was a natural outgrowth that the archives be under the care and supervision of the University's Special Collections department. The SCA Archives collection was actually stored in the University of California's Southern Regional Storage Facility. By agreement with SCA, UCLA and Special Collections at UCSB, the archives were formally transferred to UCSB Special Collections in the mid-1990s.
