‘Gay Plague’ Called Epidemic

New York

The head of the National Task Force investigating the “gay plague” calls the mystery sickness an epidemic unprecedented in the history of American medicine.

Dr. James W. Curran, of the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, said the disease kills up to four out of 10 victims and threatens to explode in the nation’s big cities.

Male homosexuals who have many partners and people who give themselves drugs through needles top the list of likely victims, medical experts said.

The illness is nicknamed “gay plague” because the first outbreaks took place in homosexual men. But now it is hitting heterosexual males as well as women, Curran said.

Curran and other experts spoke Tuesday during an all-day symposium at Mount Sinai Medical Center.

One form of the disease, Kaposi’s sarcoma, causes leg tumors and formerly was only seen, and then rarely, among aging Jewish and Italian males. What disturbs the experts is that the new cases are showing up in young men.

Another form is a highly fatal rare pneumonia, pneumonocystis-carnii pneumonia. That, too, formerly

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT

“The GLBT Historical Society focuses its collections on gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and queer life in the wider San Francisco Bay area and Northern California. Currently, we are seeking accessions to fill particular gaps in our holdings. We seek materials documenting LGBT life prior to the 1970s, as well as LGBT people of color, lesbian and bisexual women of all social/cultural backgrounds, LGBT working class communities, and bisexual and transgender people.”
